The special issues on "Microbes for Agricultural and Environmental Sustainability" will present a detailed compendium of methods and information used to study various aspects of microbiology and biotechnology, including microbial biodiversity, phylogenetic, genomics, proteomics, molecular enzymology, biochemistry, and potential biotechnological applications of microbes for in agro-environmental sustainability.

Topic covered in special issue

Potential contributions to the special issue include but are not limited to:

1. Agriculturally important microbes
2. Biodiversity from diverse plant ecosystems
3. Endophytic, rhizospheric and phyllospheric microbes
4. Plant-microbe interactions
5. Microbes for agricultural sustainability
6. Microbes as biofertilizers and biocontrol agents
7. Microbial secondary metabolites
8. Biodiversity from extreme habitats
9. Microbes for environmental sustainability
10. Biotechnological applications

Keywords: Biodiversity, Biotechnological Applications, Plant-Microbe Interactions, Extremophilic microbes, Agricultural sustainability, Environmental sustainability.

Manuscript submission

Authors are invited to submit the high quality articles (Research articles, review articles as well as short communications). Submitted papers should be well formatted and use good English. All the submitted papers will be screened for plagiarism using ithenticate and will be subjected to peer-review. Accepted papers will be published under the special issue on journal’s website. Manuscripts should be submitted online through journal’s online submission system. Please visit this link for further details: http://jabonline.in/submitManuscript

Authors are requested to read the journal’s policies and author guidelines available here: http://jabonline.in/authorsguideline and arrange your manuscripts as per journal’s instructions.

Article processing charges: Regular article processing charges will be applicable to all the accepted articles. The details of APC is available at author guidelines page: http://jabonline.in/authorsguideline

Submission Open: May 10, 2021

Submission Deadline: October 30, 2021
